EVALUATION
WEEK
powered by GEI

gLOCAL Evaluation Week is not just another knowledge-sharing event — it's a global movement and a call to action for those who believe in the power of evidence.

Every year, for one week, participants from all over the world join events—in their neighborhood or across the ocean—to learn from each other and gain insight into how their work fits in with regional monitoring and evaluation (M&E) ecosystems and the larger international M&E community.

Since 2019, the gLOCAL platform has hosted thousands of events in multiple languages across six continents. Today, gLOCAL week is one of the largest M&E knowledge-sharing events in the world.

gLOCAL event participants and hosts include international organizations, regional M&E bodies, (sub-) national governmental and non-governmental organizations, decision-makers, commissioners, Voluntary Organizations for Professional Evaluation (VOPEs), academics, researchers, and students – who all come together to connect, learn, and collaborate.

gLOCAL is convened and supported by the Global Evaluation Initiative (GEI) – a global partnership of organizations and experts that supports countries in strengthening their national M&E systems to help governments gather and use evidence to improve decision-making.

A tremendous amount of knowledge is generated and shared during gLOCAL events.

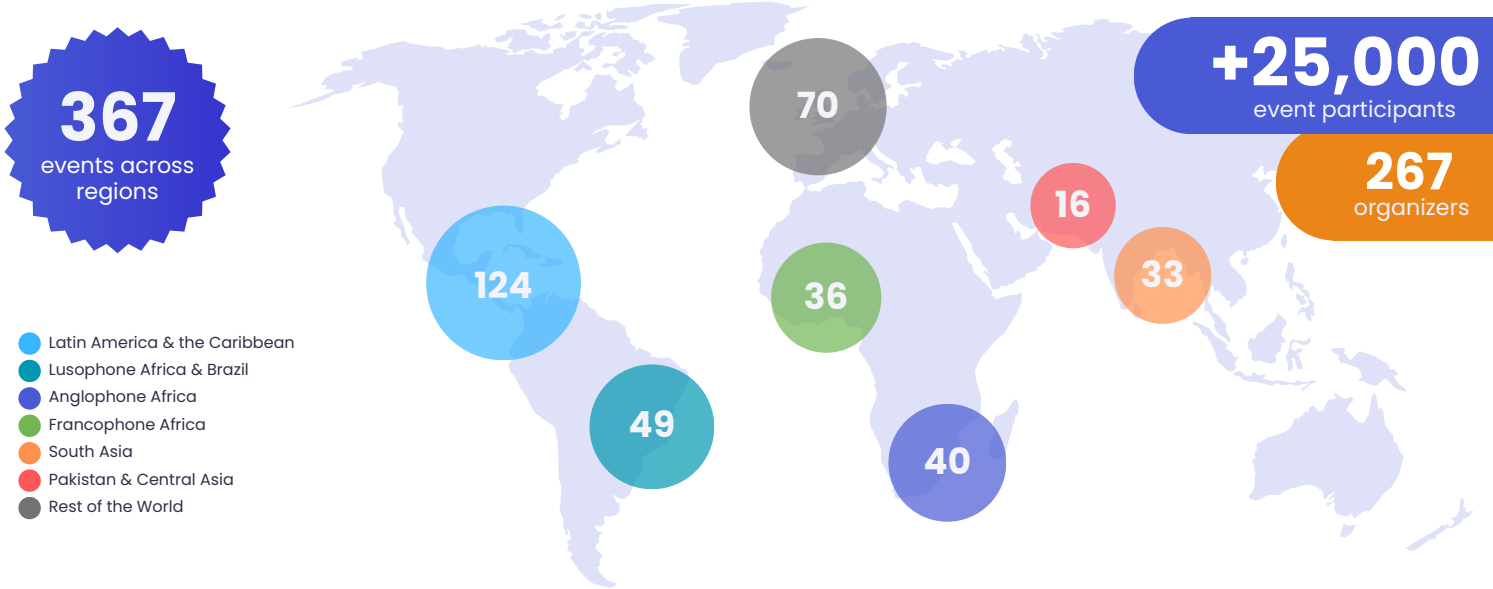

If you did not attend events during gLOCAL week this year, we strongly encourage you to explore the proceedings on the gLOCAL website.

VIDEO SUMMARY

Join us. Be the change. Together, let's shape the future of M&E.

In 2024, an estimated 25,000 individuals participated in M&E knowledge sharing worldwide during gLOCAL Evaluation Week. With more than 368 events hosted in 53 countries around the globe. This great turnout was only possible through the effort of the 267 event organizers who hosted events, as well as every panelist who shared their knowledge and every participant that joined the conversation.
